

Quarterly Executive Report — Q1 2025

StreamCo Confidential | Prepared by the Analytics Division

Executive Summary:

Q1 2025 has been a landmark quarter for StreamCo. Total platform revenue reached $487 million, representing a 23% year-over-year increase. Our subscriber base grew to 14.2 million active users, driven primarily by the successful launches of Stellar Run and Dark Orbit in the Sci-Fi category.

Revenue Breakdown by Genre:

The Sci-Fi genre dominated Q1 revenue, contributing $156 million (32% of total). Action titles followed closely at $112 million (23%), while Comedy generated $78 million (16%). Romance and Thriller genres contributed $72 million and $69 million respectively. This marks the first quarter where Sci-Fi surpassed Action as the top revenue genre, a shift driven by the massive success of Stellar Run.

Top Performing Titles:

Stellar Run emerged as the breakout hit of the quarter, generating $89 million in revenue against a $45 million budget — a 97% return on investment. Dark Orbit performed strongly at $67 million revenue. Last Kingdom continued its steady performance with $52 million. Echo Chamber surprised analysts with $41 million despite a modest marketing budget.

Viewer Engagement Metrics:

Average watch time per session increased to 47 minutes, up from 42 minutes in Q4 2024. Completion rates improved across all genres, with Sci-Fi leading at 78% average completion. The Premium tier showed the highest engagement with 62 minutes average session length. Mobile viewing continued to grow, now representing 43% of all watch sessions.

Geographic Performance:

New York and Los Angeles remain our strongest markets, contributing 34% of total revenue. However, emerging markets like Denver and Phoenix showed 45% growth quarter-over-quarter. Seattle demonstrated particularly strong engagement scores, averaging 8.2 out of 10 across all titles.

Strategic Outlook:

Based on Q1 performance, we are increasing our Sci-Fi content investment by 30% for the remainder of 2025. The comedy genre requires strategic reassessment — while audience size remains large, per-viewer revenue trails other genres by 22%. We recommend targeted comedy content that appeals to Premium subscribers specifically.

Key Risks:

Market saturation in major metropolitan areas may slow growth. Increasing content production costs (up 15% YoY) require careful budget management. Competition from rival platforms intensified in Q1 with three new entrants in the streaming space.
